Strictly Non-Partisan.

One of the strongest features of the Commission Government charter to be voted upon by Third class cities, including Hopkinsville, next week is its non-partisan provision. The voters will be confronted by no party tickets, or party devices. Every candidate is nominated and elected by all of the people, by a method that eliminates machine politics and politicians. For this reason, the rings and cliques everywhere fight the reform method and prefer to adhere to the old plan that gives boss rule a chance and turns the city over every two years to the spoils hunters. The salient section of the law showing how the people are protected and the tleket made absolutely non-partisan is given:

"Sec. 10.—At all elections held under said act, the ballots shall be on a different sheet of all other ballots to be used in any election and shall be in the form therein prescribed, except the words 'City Ballot' shall be at the head thereof, and the names of all candidates shall be printed on said ballot in a single column. The names of the candidates shall be printed on the first 50 ballots as arranged in alphabetical order and on each of the succeeding 50 ballots the names shall be printed in the same order, except, that the first name on the preceding 50 ballot shall be shifted to the last place on the next succeeding 50 ballots, which last name so shifted from the first place on said previous lot of 50 ballots shall be succeeded by the second name thereon at all times, and so on thereafter throughout, a like change or rotation being made in the printed order of names for every 50 ballots."

It is being urged by the politicians that this prevents an illiterate voter from voting as he is drilled to vote. The law takes care of this, by making it the duty of the election clerk and not the political hewer to instruct the voter who cannot read. This must be done in the presence of the election officers who represent both parties. It is impossible to make the ballot a partisan one. The man who attempts to inject politics into his race for commissioner finds himself on a mixed ballot with a different arrangement of the names every fifty ballots. The law is intended to help the people and not the politicians.

DEMOCRATIC RALLY WILL BE A HUMMER

Quartette of The Ablest Leaders in Kentucky Will Address A Great Crowd at The Tabernacle Tomorrow Night.

THEY WILL SPEND THE NIGHT HERE.

The Special Train Touring Western Kentucky Coming With Both Senators and Governors Beckham and McCreary.

J. C. W. BECKHAM.

Everything is in full swing for the great Democratic rally at the Tabernacle tomorrow night. The special train will arrive at 8 o'clock over the L. & N. road and Gov. J. C. W. Beckham and Senator J. N. Camden, candidates for senator, will both speak. Also Gov. Jas. B. McCreary, and Senator Ollie M. James will speak in behalf of the nominees.

There will be other speakers and it will be a veritable feast of Democratic oratory from the fountain heads of the party, National and State. Democrats from all surrounding towns are expected to be on hand and the occasion will be the most notable of the campaign. It will be Senator Camden's first visit to Hopkinsville, but the other leaders are frequent visitors and have large personal followings. It has been several years since Senator James was here and everybody is anxious to hear the big Kentuckian who will some day be President of the United States.

Starts Out Today.

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 28.—Details in connection with the running of the Democratic special through Southern and Western Kentucky have been completed by the Democratic State Campaign Committee. The train to steam out of Louisville at 7:20 o'clock Thursday morning. Aboard will be United States Senators Ollie M. James and Johnson N. Camden, Gov. James B. McCreary, former Gov. J. C. W. Beckham, Democratic nominee for United States Senator, and Rufus H. Vansant, chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee. These five already have accepted invitations to make the trip, and the special will bear many others. It is planned to pick up Congressmen from the various congressional districts through which the special will pass, and have them make speeches in their respective districts. The special will be out three days, returning to Louisville Saturday night, in time for a big Democratic rally to be held at the Masonic Theater.

Big Rallies To Be Held.

Several big Democratic rallies will be attended by those aboard the special, while it is on the road, among them one at Owensboro, another at Paducah and another at Hopkinsville. These rallies will be held in the towns named, and will be addressed by Senator James, Senator Camden and others.

Attracted to Louisville by the presence of Senator James, many Federal officeholders arrived here last night from various sections of the State. Senator James apparently was in high spirits over the outlook for Democratic success in November, and greeted all his callers warmly.

DEATH LIST OF 166 LIVES

In An Illinois Coal Mine Caused By Gas Explosion—Three Hundred Entombed.

PROMPT WORK SAVED 150.

Fire Raging and Missing Men Are Beyond All Hope Of Rescue.

Royalton, Ill., Oct. 28.—A total of 161 dead is shown on the casualty list issued late last night by officials of the Franklin Coal & Coke Company, at whose mines near here, three hundred men were entombed at the going to work hour yesterday morning.

Rescuers late today found fifteen dazed and injured miners in a pocket in the burning shaft and led them to safety.

The mine belongs to the Franklin Coal & Coke Company. The fire followed a gas explosion. Deadly fumes prevented rescuers from reaching the men entrapped on the lower level.

Of the 150 taken from the mine, more than eighty had been overcome by gas. Two died at the surface.

A mine rescue car from Benton, Ill., arrived nearly four hours after the explosion with a supply of oxygen helmets. The work of rescue was then pushed with vigor, but only dead bodies were found.

Experts said tonight it would be impossible to subdue the fire raging in the lower level until the burning sections were sealed.

RAID CHECKED IN NORTH OF FRANCE

Invaders Have Also Been Forced Back Beyond Their Own Frontier on The Line To The South.

MORE TROUBLE IN SOUTHERN AFRICA.

Hard Fighting Still In Progress On The Eastern Battle Line With Russians Bringing Up French Troops at The Vistula River, Which Has Been Crossed.

London, Oct. 28.—The German raid on the channel ports, as it is called here, seems to have been checked for the time being, or at any rate, the Germans have made little, if any, progress since they crossed the Yser canal last Saturday. They, however, are still pushing with all the forces at their command and are meeting with stubborn resistance from French, British and Belgian troops.

Losses on both sides continue proportionate to the fierceness of the battle, which means that they are greater than those in any battle since war was declared, now nearly three months ago.

Along the coast, where the allies are assisted by French and British warships, they apparently have more than held their own, and after inflicting heavy losses on the Germans have compelled them to try for an opening farther inland. Up until yesterday the allies had been forced to give way at some points, but today, according to the French official communication, they have held their positions at every point from the mouth of the Yser to the Lens district and again have advanced between Ypres and Roulers, where there has been some of the sternest fighting of this sanguinary battle and where the British Indian troops have made their first appearance in the firing line.

The opposing forces are so strong that it must be many days before a decisive result is attained by either side, despite great losses they are suffering and which grow greater as report follows report.

Along the whole front, stretching from the river Oise to the Meuse, from which the Germans withdrew their best troops to strengthen the army attempting to advance along the coast, the French have been taking the offensive and north of Soissons have been engaging in an artillery duel with the Germans in which they have destroyed several German batteries. They seem to have been playing at this game for some time, for the last three reports from Parris have announced the destruction of German guns.

Further east the offensive tactics of the French have driven the Germans, who were threatening Nancy, back across the frontier. The Germans, however, are so strongly entrenched along this line that it is believed they are preparing to remain for the winter, holding their positions until their present objectives, the northern ports of France, have been attained.

Serious battles also are proceeding in southern Poland and in Galicia, without decisive results. The Russians, however, have crossed the Vistula, north of Lvangorod with a fresh army corps, which should have a marked effect on the fortunes of the battle. From their own account they appear to be breaking down Austrian resistance south of Przemyśl and throughout Galicia, where fighting of the most stubborn character has been going on for weeks.

Another rebellion has broken out in South Africa—this time headed by Gen. Christian De Wet and Gen. Beyers. Neither of these men has any political following, but it is feared burghers, who like themselves, retain some of the bitterness aroused by the South African war, will join them.

The defense force, as the army of the Union of South Africa is called, is considered for the government, for when Gen. Beyers gave up his command of that force on the outbreak of war, none of the officers or men of the army followed. Besides, Gen. Botha, the premier, retains his support of the great mass of the people of the Union.

German mine layers have been busy again and have mined the waters north of Ireland, the first victim of which has been the British steamer Manchester Commerce.

TUESDAY'S NEWS.

France.

The Germans continue violent attacks along the North Sea coast, and subjected Nieuport to heavy bombardment, but made little progress, as they were faced with the strongest resistance. The French report states that all the front from La Bassée to the Somme was equally the object of violent attacks, all of which were repulsed. The German headquarters report says their attacks around Nieuport were obstinately defended, but claim to have hit three ships.

England.

Great Britain in two notes presented to the State Department defined her attitude toward commerce between neutral countries. Cotton is not considered even conditional contraband and will exempt from seizure, whether shipped to neutral or belligerent countries. As to oil and other conditional contraband, the American doctrine of continuous voyage or "ultimate destination" will be followed, it is stated. The "Rockefeller" and other oil ships were declared innocent and released. A casualty list reports fifteen officers were killed, fifty-two wounded and seventeen missing. The steamer Admiral Ganteaume was sunk by mine in Boulogne harbor and twenty to thirty persons drowned.

Russia.

The Russian official statement says that the combats on the Petrokoff and Radom roads are assuming the character of a great battle, and that the Germans were attacked by bayonet, 700 being buried in one village and many prisoners taken. The stubborn resistance of the Austrians in Galicia is weakening, says the report.

Albania.

Avlonia, Albania, has been occupied by Italian naval forces. Italy states the purpose of the occupation is to insure an autonomous Albania.

Germany.

Rome received a dispatch from Berlin announcing that Maj. Gen. von Falkenhayn, the German Minister of War, has been named to succeed Gen. von Moltke, chief of staff, who is ill. The Germans have landed 42-centimeter howitzers in Bruges.

GREAT CROWD

Sees Fayssoux, the Hypnotist, at Opera House.

Fayssoux, the hypnotist, billed to appear at Holland's Opera House in a three nights' engagement, was too ill to appear Tuesday night, suffering from fever, and the crowd gathered at the Opera house was greatly disappointed. However, he was much improved yesterday and appeared last night to a large audience. Fayssoux is a wonder, whose demonstrations startle the public and his sensational exhibitions always draw large crowds.

the greatest difficulty in the way of landing parties is the almost impen-ford cover for an enemy attacking the forts and trenches and prevent having a clear field of fire. So they are about to expend about $50,000 in the attempt to clear away this jungle at necessary points, probably burning the tracts over and over again and placing cattle there, as done in the Philippines.

USE OF ALUMINUM VESSELS

Scientific Investigation Shows That
the Metal Has Many Advantages Over Other Kinds.Now that aluminum utensils are coming into use it will be interesting to note the following experiments made by Prof. John Glaister of the Glasgow university, his object
being to find whether various aliments were likely to attack the metal.
He finds that the only substances
that attack the surface are oranges, lemons, brussels sprouts and tomatoes, but even in this case the quantity of aluminum dissolved is insignificant and quite inoffensive.It is already known that aluminum is not affected by air at any temperature and it does not blacken on contact with hydrogen sulphide as silver does. As the metal is easily cleaned it appears that such utensils
have all the advantages and all kinds of foods can be prepared in them
without danger.Another advantage that they share with copper vessels is that, being of thin metal, they heat up very quickly. For electric or flame heaters this means quite an economy of heat, as less heat is now lost in warming up the material of the vessel. This refers specially to rapid heating, such as boiling of water and the like.—

EXTENDS FAR INTO THE PAST

Scotch Professor of Opinion That Antiquity of Man Has Been Much Underestimated.In his recent work, "The Antiquity of Man in Europe," Prof. James Geikie of Edinburgh university declares his belief that man has inhabited Europe between 230,000 and 500,000 years. All such estimates are based on geological facts—such as the rate at which sediment is deposited, or at which stalagmites grow—that are very hard to determine with any accuracy, but no one now doubts that man is far older than men of science originally supposed him to be. "When we reflect,"
says Professor Geikie, "on the many geographical changes that man has witnessed—the submergence and reelevation of enormous tracts, the erosion of valleys and general lowering of the surface by denudation; when we consider that he has lived through a succession of stupendous climatic revolutions; that he has seen widely contrasted floras and faunas alternately occupying our continent—tun-dras, steppes and great forests succeeding each other again and again—
we must feel convinced that the few thousand years that have elapsed since the downfall of Babylonian, Assyrian and Egyptian empires are as nothing compared with the long cons that separate the earliest times of history from the apparition of paleolithic man in Europe."—

HOW TO GAIN NOTORIETY.

Senator Stone, having been sent a live coon from Missouri, had him
on exhibition for a week on the grass plot of the terrace below the capitol.
Every now and then a senator with wrinkled brow, wondering where his vote would land him, would go down with the now distinguished chairman of the foreign relations committee and look at this real live senatorial coon with all the interest of a boy at a menagerie.My old friend in the gallery could not resist philosophizing upon the incident. "Nowadays," he began, regretfully, "unless a senator raises Cain, captures a coon or does something else unusual, he is not noticed."
But there was a twinkle in his eye
as he took my arm and we set forth
for the terrace where the Missouri
coon proved a popular attraction.—

Friendly Fish.

A curious instance of the familiarity of fishes with human beings has been observed in Portland, Ore., at the United States barge office. The official boat is kept at the end of the wharf. Some time ago one of the boatmen began to notice a fish about eight inches long, and resembling a carp that seemed to wish to scrape acquaintance. The fish would come up to the top of the water whenever the man appeared, and did not seem to be at all afraid. After a time all the men got to know the fish, and began to take friends to see him. At first he might not be in sight, but he would very soon appear and frisk around near the surface. Once or twice he has come so close as to rub his nose against the boatman's hand, and the men are waiting further developments.

Leprosy in London.

A skin disease specialist writes to the London Standard: "There are known to be about a hundred lepers in London, but I am afraid there are many others who are unconscious sufferers. Only last January a woman came to me with what she described as an 'acute attack of eczema.' She was actually suffering from leprosy. How many more cases are thus hidden I cannot say—there must be others. Whether or not leprosy is contagious or infectious or neither is disputed. It is generally understood that the disease is spread by eating food that leprosy hands have touched. Leprosy, of course, originates from eating fish."

MAN EATER WAITED TOO LONG

Shark Seemed to Play With Rescued Man as Cat Might Play With a Mouse.

How Abdullah Aziz, a Mohammedan fireman on board the British steamship Baron Ogilvy, in Baltimore loading grain destined for ports in France, was saved from a shark when he jumped overboard while the vessel was in the Red sea, was told by the officers who beat off the shark and rescued the man in one of the ship's boats. Abdullah shipped on the vessel at Calcutta to toss coal into the furnaces.

After several days of the work the intense heat affected his mind, and on the afternoon of September 2, when the ship was off Aden in the Red sea, he rushed up on deck and plunged overboard. The officers saw him leap and after throwing a life belt the ship was hove to. Chief Officer A. G. Bally and Third Officer E. Coulthart, with a volunteer crew, manned a lifeboat and hastened to Abdullah's assistance.

To the horror of those watching the rescue, a huge shark was seen playing around the man, but for some unaccountable reason it did not attack Abdullah, who managed to sustain himself by the life belt until the rescuers arrived. When the man was being dragged into the boat the shark swept dangerously near, apparently angered because its prey had escaped.

Rash Vow Caused Insanity.

A story is told of a young man in England, a great chess enthusiast, who was so annoyed at his failure to solve an apparently simple problem that he vowed he would neither sleep nor eat until the solution was found. He shut himself up in a disused room, and was found four days later by his relatives, terribly emaciated and out of his mind. He spent a year in a lunatic asylum as the result of the rash vow, and the problem remains unsolved.

POURED OUT $132 FOR $1

Philadelphia Thieves Emptied Whisky Barrel of Valuable Contents and Sold Cask.

After stealing a barrel containing whisky valued at $132 the thieves emptied the contents and sold the barrel to a junk dealer for $1, reports the Philadelphia Record. Several days ago a case containing 35 bars and a barrel of whisky was reported stolen from one of the freight stations of the Reading Railway company. Detective Blankenburg of the railroad investigated the case and arrested Howard Ruby, eighteen years old; Charles Ellis, twenty years old, and William McLaughlin, twenty-one years old. The boys admitted, according to Blankenburg, that they had stolen the case containing the hats and also the whisky.

The boys said they poured the whisky from the barrel and then disposed of the barrel to a junk dealer. The hats, they said, were sold to Harry Bernstein, a second-hand dealer. Bernstein was arrested when the police found the hats in his possession. For hats valued at $50, it was testified, Bernstein paid the three boys $1.

Dog Grieved for Horse.

A remarkable display of emotion on the part of a dog was given recently in the Bellevue hospital stables, New York, when Baby, the veteran favorite ambulance horse, died suddenly. Alice, a Boston bull, has been inseparable from Baby since her rescue by stablemen, three years ago. The grief and actions of the animal so impressed Dr. Gregory that they took snapshots of the scene. Baby was twenty-eight years old and drew ambulances to the Hotel Royal fire, Windsor hotel fire, Park Avenue hotel fire, Tarrant building fire and Triangle Waist company fire.

FARMER HANGS HIMSELF.

Stokey Lax Had Been Placed In Jail On Old Charge.

Princeton, Ky., Oct. 28.—Stokey Lax, a Caldwell county farmer, hanged himself in the county jail here Saturday night. He was arrested and placed in jail on a charge of disturbing a public meeting. His body was discovered hanging in a cell of the second tier of the jail by Jailor Throckmorton when he went to awake him for breakfast. Lax had made a rope from a piece of blanket by twisting it in a hard roll. When found his body was stiff and standing in an almost upright position, his feet resting upon the floor. An inquest was held, the verdict being that Lax came to his death by strangulation at his own hands. Lax was about sixty years old, and leaves a wife and several children. His mind had been unbalanced for several years and he was in the habit of leaving home without notifying his family and staying away for some time. Prior to his affliction Lax was a successful and influential farmer.

HORSE MEAT

Sold In Louisville and One Butcher Is Indicted.

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 26.—First steps in an investigation to determine whether horse or mule meat is being sold in Louisville under the disguise of beef, were taken by the Jefferson county grand jury and the city board of health. The grand jury indicted one butcher and the board of health heard the testimony of butchers and dealers in an effort to learn how widespread has been the alleged practice.

Affidavits placed before the board declared decrepit horses and mules have been slaughtered and widely sold over meat counters.

Means of Offense and Defense.
Many reptiles use their tails to strike down their game, while a large number of animals are supplied with pungent odors or secretions that are equally potent as a defense. In certain groups we find enormous horns and tusks that are intended entirely for purposes of protection. In some cases they are upon the top of the head, as in our cows or oxen. Again, as in the elephant or some cetaceans, they are highly developed teeth.

Skeptical Judge.
A Jew in the Shoreditch (Eng.) County court expressed the hope that his hands might drop off if he was not speaking the truth. "They won't," said Judge Cluer. "You managed to record for us that such things did happen, but the earth won't open now and swallow us up. I have heard men express the wish to drop dead if they were not telling the truth, but it never happens. We can never settle cases in that way."

COUNTY FARM AGENT PLANS NEW WORK

Farmers' Stock And Seed Exchange Will Be Conducted In Future.

County Farm Demonstrator C. P. Taylor plans some new work for the farmers. He will conduct what is known as the Farmers' Stock and Seed Exchange. This work is calculated to bring the farmers in touch with their neighbors who have good seed corn, wheat or any other grain or vegetable; good stock of any kind, can make this known to the county agent and he will record it in a book where any farmer can come in and obtain the information. This is instituted mainly for the sale of breeding cattle, pure bred seed and not for the general run of farm material.—Madisonville Hustler.

Forest Notes

Because of drouth conditions there is considerable fire danger in the forests of the east this fall.

Pennsylvania and New Jersey lead all other states in the quantity of wood used for making tobacco pipes, and utilize apple wood, French brier, ebony, birch, red gum, and olive wood.

Cherry is the wood most used as a backing for the metal plates from which illustrations are printed in magazines and periodicals. It is chosen above all others because it holds its shape, does not warp or twist, works smoothly and does not split.

Two governors, those of Oregon and Massachusetts, have suspended the hunting season this year because of increased danger of forest fires when the woods were exceptionally dry.

The position of city forester is now offering a new field for men with a technical training in forestry. Pitchburg, Massachusetts, is one of the latest towns to secure an official of this sort.

Because of extreme drouth, the fire risks on the national forests in the Northwest have been greater this season than in any other since 1910, the worst year since the forests were created. Much less damage was done this year because experience in fire fighting was gained in the fires of 1910.

Witherspoon-Driffoos.

At the Vine Street Christian church Tuesday morning, one of the most interesting weddings of the fall occurred—that of Miss Damaris Driffoos and Dr. Jack Witherspoon, the ceremony celebrated in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends. The couple is one of the most popular in the younger society element of Nashville. The bride has, since her debut, been greatly admired, for her beauty and charming personality, and had many friends that had been especially interested in her marriage. On the occasion of her wedding she was dressed for traveling, and was exceptionally attractive in a blue tailored suit, which was finished with fur and black velvet. Her black velvet hat was trimmed with feathers, and the corsage bouquet was of orchids and lilies of the valley.

Dr. Carey E. Morgan, pastor, was the officiating minister, and preceding the ceremony a musical program was given by Mrs. Walton Lawrence, organist.

In the bridal party were the ushers, Mr. Charles Witherspoon, Drs. Norman Dale, W. C. Dixon, B. E. Boone, L. W. Edwards and Owsley Manier; Miss Margaret Hoyte, maid of honor, and Mr. Dale Witherspoon, who was his brother's best man. Miss Hoyte was charmingly gowned in a gray charmeuse costume. The trimmings were of self-toned chiffon, and the hat worn with the gown was of silver finish with white all-grettes. She carried American Beauties. Miss Hoyte came in alone, preceding the bride and her father, Mr. H. M. Driffoos, who gave her in marriage.

Previous to the ceremony the bridal couple were the recipients of a number of delightful affairs; among the number was a buffet supper Monday evening given by the bride's parents, at their home on Seventeenth avenue, south. The guests of the occasion were the members of the bridal party, the immediate families and the friends from a distance. Dr. and Mrs. Witherspoon are now on a bridal tour in New York, and on their return will be in their apartment in the Magnolia. A number of handsome presents were received by the couple. Dr. Witherspoon is one of Nashville's most prominent younger members of the medical profession.

Among the friends from a distance who were present at the ceremony were the bride's grandmother, Mrs. R. A. Burnett and Mr. J. Preston White, of Cadiz, Ky.—Tennessean.

Agnew-Wiley.

The November Election.

Next week the November elections occur. Interest centers generally in the senatorial and congressional contests, though in some of the states local elections held with the more important ones because of the nature of these local events. Canvasses of the senatorial and congressional contests, some of them three-cornered, indicate possible surprising results in some states.

There are 36 senatorial and 435 congressional seats to be decided and these estimates are made of the outcome by the New York World, which claims to have made a close canvass. 1. Republicans will undoubtedly score substantial gains in the lower house, though the Democrats will control it by a majority in excess of 40, while the Democrats' representation in the senate will be increased.

2. In the senate there will probably be 54 or 55 Democrats and 41 or 42 Republicans, as against 51 Democrats and 45 Republicans at present.

3. The sixty-fourth session of the house of representatives will contain at least 226 Democrats, 179 Republicans and 11 Progressives, with 19 districts doubtful. In the present congress there are 200 Democrats, 127 Republicans and 18 Progressives.

The affair will be in mask and light refreshments will be served during the evening. A fortune teller will be on hand to add to the amusement and pleasure of the occasion. The promoters of the party decided that it would be better to hold the entertainment Friday night instead of Saturday night, which is Halloween.

SALVATION ARMY.

To Conduct Special Services in Near Future.

Staff Capt. Widgery, divisional officer for Kentucky, Tennessee and a part of West Virginia, was in the city Tuesday to inspect the work, which was lately started here by Envoy Vallier, and also to talk over some plans for the future. While here, arrangements were made for a special meeting, which will be held in the Westminster Presbyterian Church of which Rev. Branch is pastor, on the evening of Nov. 8th, when Adjutant Coate, of Nashville will be here. He will speak upon the work of the army in general, and will also outline some of the work which Envoy Vallier hopes to carry out here in the city. There were other matters of importance discussed during the Staff Capt's visit, some of which will be announced a little later. He hopes to be able to announce the opening of a hall for gospel services in the near future.

GET HAPPY

Three grins make one smile.
Three smiles make one laugh.
One Clothcraft Suit makes one happy.

It's not how much you pay for your fall Suit, but how well it fits, looks and wears.

Many a young man is of the impression that he must pay at least $25 to get a good Suit. In some stores that may be correct, but in Clothcraft you will find Style, Fit, Comfort and Guaranteed all Wool Material for $10.00 to $22.00. The Clothcraft Blue Serge 4130 at $18.50 has been taken for a $25.00 value by men who consider themselves good judges in the buying of clothes, and it would be a good value even at that price. Better come in and try one on.

Leopard at Large in Mountains.
A full grown leopard on its way
from Germany to a menagerie in Italy escaped from the train at Lecco, on the Swiss-Italian frontier and took to the mountains. Italian gendarmes and several sportsmen armed with rifles and assisted by dogs climbed through a forest without finding any trace of the leopard, which seems to have taken refuge on the higher slopes of the neighboring mountains, and will be a menace to the woodcutters when it finds no food.

SQUIRE LIKE "IN BAD"

FRIENDS THINK HE DRAWS
POINTS OF LAW TOO FINE.

Shinopple People Naturally Displeased at the Way They Were Down Out of Treat They Were Looking Forward To.

"If Squire Ike Stratton don't quit
drawin' his pants o' law so exceedin'
fine," said Bill Sanders, the Homer
from Shinopple way, "he'll run ag'in
a snag when he puts himself in the hands of his friends fer to be elected ag'in, fer his friends 'll just raise their hands an' turn him down."

"We was 'spectin' to have a time
'most ez good ez a circus soon ez Jim Bailey had Hank Parsons took up fer killin' his tame h'ar, an' yanked him fore the squire to answer. We was all settin' at Joe Binn's grocery store,
waitin' fer the squire, Jim Bailey hein'
there ready fer to ast him fer a warrant fer Hank. The squire come in pooty soon, an' Jim says to him that he wanted the warrant."

"What's yer grounds fer perceedin'?"
says Squire Ike, blitin' a hunk offen
his plug.
"The grounds is," says Jim, "that Hank Parsons shot my tame h'ar dead,
an' says he'll be durned if he'll pay fer
it. Them's the grounds fer perceedin'!"
says Jim.

"Squire Ike he sot a spell, chawin'
like a sheep, an' then he says to Jim:
"Whar'd yet git the h'ar?"
"Ketched it when it was a cub,"
says Jim.

"Suckin' cuh?" says the squire.
"Huh, huh," says Jim. "Suckin' cub."
"It's mammy to home when you ketched it?" says the squire.

"No, she wa'n't," says Jim.
"Did you lug it away from its home
by force o' arms an' malice aforethought?" says the squire.

"If ye mean," says Jim, "did I lug it home ez quick ez I could scoot so ez
the ol' she h'ar wouldn't ketch up with me an' take it back ag'in, that's about what I done, squire," says Jim.

"Squire Ike he sot an' chawed awhile, an' shiftin' his cud to t' other cheek, hy an' hy he says to Jim:
"An' ye want a warrant fer Hank Parsons, do ye?" says he.

"Jes' what I do, hy hokey!" says
Jim.

"Squire Ike, he chawed awhile more,
an' then he says:

"Well, I kin give ye a warrant, Jim,
but ye better go a leetle slow," says he.
"Hank is liable to turn 'round an' ast fer a warrant fer you, too, an' I'll hef
to give it to him."

"Warrant fer me!" says Jim, no more s'prised an' took back than he all was. "A warrant, what fer, I'd like to know?" says he.

"Kidnapin'," says the squire. "You kidnaped a h'ar on yer own showin', James, an' the law is dead sot ag'in kidnapers," says he, "specially when thuz malice aforethought with 'em.
An' your'n is a specially aggravat'n
case," says he, "fer you was access'ry both afore an' arter the fact. I kin give ye a warrant fer Hank if ye want it, Jim," says the squire, "but ye better go a leetle slow," says he.

"Him a drawin' his p'int o' law so exceedin' fine shunted the case round
so alarmin' that Jim took Squire Ike's advice an' went slow, so that Hank Parsons wasn't yanked afore the squire, an' Shinopple never see a disapp'inted outpourin' o' feller citizens
than went home from Joe Binn's grocery store that day. An' Squire Ike Stratton 'll hear from it in thunder tones, by jeezaw, when he puts himself in the hands of his friends ag'in, mind what I tell ye, if he don't quit drawin' his p'int o' law so exceedin' fine!"

Binoculars Reveal Pirates.
When John Ball, steward of the schooner Eagle Wing, at anchor in the Delaware river, off Cooper's Point, Philadelphia, stood on the wharf and saw the river with his binoculars to pick out his vessel he discovered river pirates at work stripping her.

He appealed to the police tug and that craft hurried to the side of the schooner. Half a dozen men who were in a launch alongside the Eagle Wing fled, hut Henry Sels, who was aboard the vessel, was arrested and locked up.

Sels is charged with disposing of the schooner's property to the pirates.
He declared himself to be one of the crew, and contended that the goods were his own. The steward, however, told the police he had never seen the man before and insisted upon his arrest.

Organ Notes From a Piano.

At a conversation in the rooms of the Society of French Civil Engineers
in Paris, visiting British engineers were introduced to a new invention of two Frenchmen, M. Maitre and M.
Martin, a piano in which the notes are produced by the wires being set in vibration by an electro-magnet instead of being struck by hammers. The mechanism is operated in the usual way by a keyboard, hut, instead of dying gradually away as they do with ordinary piano notes, maintain their volume as long as the key is pressed.
The effect produced is similar to that of an organ, and makes of the piano an entirely new and different instrument.

Loss Caused by Revolution.

tionally large, occupies the unique position of being practically useless in

Duruy's History of the World

Four splendid cloth volumes, full of portraits, sketches, maps, diagrams

Today is the climax of a hundred years of preparation.
Read in this timely, authoritative, complete, AND THE ONLY CONDENSED classic world history—of which over 2,000,000 copies have been sold in France alone—just what has taken place in the inner councils of Europe during the past one hundred years. Read in these entrancing pages how Russia has for years craftily been trying to escape from her darkness—to get a year-round open port, with its economic freedom.
Read how Germany and Austria, fearful of the monster's latent strength, have been trying to checkmate her and how they have pinned all in this last, supreme stake.

The Lesson of the Past

THIS master of the pen shows you the glory that was Greece's and the grandeur that was Rome's. He guides you through the Middle Ages, the picturesque old days of feudalism and the crusades;
through the Renaissance up to contemporary history, which Prof.
Grawner completes in brilliant manner. In the story of the past he tells the secrets of today. And you will understand them better when you get the Review of Reviews for a year—for the Review of Reviews will give you a new interpretation of the events that are taking place with such rapidity. It is not enough to read the daily news reports. Your ability to comprehend conditions, and to discuss them rationally depends on a true interpretation of the meaning and the "reason why" of events. In your mind you must bring order out of chaos—and the Review of Reviews will do it for you.

Two Would Not Go Together.

A certain deacon was one of the best of men, but by nature very irascible. A cow was so exceedingly disorderly, as the deacon was attempting to milk her one morning, that the old Adam got the better of him and he vented his excited feelings in a volley of expletives very undecorous in their character. At this moment the good deacon's pastor appeared unexpectedly on the scene and announced his presence by saying: "Why, deacon! Can it be? Are you swearing?"

"Well, parson," replied the deacon, "I didn't think of any one being near by, but the truth is, I never shall enjoy religion as long as I keep this cow."

FOR YOUR ROADWAYS
Our new Road will Outlast Three Times as Long as the Old Road and is Much Better in Every Way.

Let us get our counties and townships each getting a good bit of our money's worth. A 9-foot roadbed on 21 by 6 foot wide road grades? A 24-foot roadbed is plenty wide enough for a 14-foot roadbed. Then why spoil good grade by putting on a 9-foot roadbed? It costs less than one-third more to make a road job of it? Fourteen feet is sufficient width for two tracks; that would mean just one-half of the wear on the road. Then we can drive so as to have a wheel on each side of the center and that makes no more track and will be equal to a 9-foot road. So you see we have three times the wearing surface on a 14-foot roadbed that we do on a 9-foot. Then we have a chance to pass other rigs without one or both going into the ditch. Now this is claiming quite a lot for one-third more expense, but I think a 14-foot road will outlast three 9-foot roads, has a handier surface and is better in every way, writes John D. De Cou in Michigan Farmer. If you come up behind a rig you have a chance to get by. If you are driving an auto you do not have to go outside of the hard roadbed and take chances on skidding into the ditch.

A 9-foot roadbed has but one track. Where the wheels run it gets packed perfectly solid and a heavy load will crush all small stones into dust, and the first auto that comes along sucks it up on the front side of the wheels and then blows it clear off the track when they let go. This doesn't seem much, but when from one to fifty or more go over the same track it soon counts. Meanwhile, the horses traveling in the center with iron-shod hoofs have kept that dug loose and it gradually works out, leaving the road low in the center where it should be high. Then when heavy rains come the ridges where the wheel tracks come hold it in and it washes down the center to the lowest level, where it runs off at the sides, cutting ditches and causing a bad chuck hole.

This road is hard to keep in repair. If you use a road grader or drag to scrape the sides to the center the wheel tracks are so solid that they will hold up the blades and you will do but little if any good. If you have on more gravel it will not pack in the center, but keep working into the wheel tracks, making them still higher, when they are too high already. If our roads were 14 feet or more in width, then the driving would be all over the whole road, making a hard, smooth surface, and by going over once in a while with a road drag it would keep the center high, the rains would drain off at the sides and not wash down the center, and there would not be wear enough in any one place to work or crush the surface into dust to be blown off by winds or autos.

You can repair a 14-foot road at any time, and it will pack and make a smooth, hard surface, for people will drive so as to hit the whole surface. But not so with a 9-foot road. They will all follow the same track, no matter how crooked the first pattern is. It will be better to build 14 feet or wider in the first place, than to build nine feet and then wider afterward, for it is hard to get a smooth, even surface, because the new gravel will work off the old, hard surface, causing a sag on each side which will have to be filled several times before it will get solid enough to match the old roadbed.

Means Better Highways.

Where the dirt roads are in question the farmers need not fear any damage to the roads from the motor car. Their coming means better highways and possibly state aid in the construction of real roads of a permanent character.

To Prevent Malaria.

A good way to prevent malaria is to use Grove's Tasteless Tonic. It acts on the Liver, Drives out Malaria, Purifies the Blood and Builds up the Whole System. 50 cents.
